CREATES NEW RECORD.

Georgia's Peach Crop Exceeds Estimate by 1,000 Carloads.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 28.—Notwithstanding that between 300 and 400 cars of peaches rotted on the growers' hands because of the lack of a sufficient supply of refrigerator cars, Georgia's crop of peaches this year exceeds the record crop of 1908 by about 300 cars. This season's crop was three times as large as that of last year, the shipments yesterday approximating 6,000 cars. The yield this year was more than 1,000 cars in excess of the estimate made by the Georgia Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Policeman Kills in Self-Defense.

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 28.—In a desperate encounter on the North Augusta bridge yesterday afternoon Arthur Grubbs, member of a prominent family of Williston, S. C., was shot through the head while trying to kill a policeman. Grubbs, who resented the officer's attempt to arrest him for disorderly conduct, died last night. The shooting attracted a large crowd, and for a time further trouble was feared. The arrival of a police platoon, however, prevented a demonstration.

JOUST AT FOREST GLEN

KNIGHTS RIDE IN TOURNAY FOR BENEFIT OF CHURCH.

Prize Goes to Knight of Langley, Who Names Washington Girl Queen.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., July 28, 1910. The annual jousting tournament for the benefit of historic St. John's Catholic Church at Forest Glen, was held yesterday, and, as usual, attracted a very large gathering, several thousand persons from Washington, various parts of the county and other places being present. A thunderstorm began at 2:30 o'clock and was watched with interest by the large crowd which lined the course. But six knights contested for the cash prizes offered and the honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty and her maids of honor, but they made up in skill what they lacked in numbers, and probably no finer exhibition of tilting has ever been seen in these parts.

Knight of Langley First.

The first prize of $20 and the honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty went to Henry D. Hurst of Langley, Va., who, riding as Knight of Langley, captured nine one-half, three three-quarter and five one-half-inch rings before he missed.

Thomas Head of Balley's Cross Roads, Va., who rode as Knight of Munson Hill, was a close second. He made the same score as the winner of first honors less one one-half ring. His prize was $15.

The third prize of $10 was taken by A. De Sales Langley of Washington, who also gave a clever performance. He rode as Knight of Anheuser-Busch, Fourth place and a prize of $5 were captured by William Altheimer of Berwyn, Md., who rode as Knight of Berwyn.

The other contestants were Lawrence Selbel and Jack Blandford, both of Washington, who rode as Knight of St. Joseph and Knight of District of Columbia, respectively.

Officers of Tournament.

The tournament was in charge of Douglas M. Blandford of Silver Spring, who acted as chief marshal, and the judges were John S. McConney, Howard Boyd and B. F. Saul. The address to the knights was delivered by State Senator Blair Lee.

The royal set was danced about 9 o'clock last evening, a large gathering surrounding the pavilion as the various figures were executed. The coronation speech was made by J. Dawson of Kensington.

Miss Katherine Kernan of Washington was crowned queen of love and beauty, and Mrs. Estelle Brown of Kensington and Misses Katherine Burrows of Washington and Marian Doherty of Beltsville were crowned first, second, third and fourth maids of honor, respectively. Following the interesting event the pavilion became crowded with dancing was continued until a late hour.

APPRAISEMENTS MADE IN GRADE DAMAGE CASES

Union Station Commission Reports in Matter of Jackson Street Changes.

The Union station grade-damage commission, composed of Charles A. Baker, George W. Moss and George Sprague, today reported to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia its appraisements as to the damages alleged to have resulted to certain real estate in squares 676 and 677, owing to changes made in the grades of H street and Jackson street in connection with the establishment of the Union station and terminals. The appraisements of the commission follow:

Sublot 102, in square 677, improved by premises 56 and 58 Jackson street northeast, Robert A. Dore, petitioner, owner; $500.

Lot 82, in square 677, fronting on Jackson street northeast, Bridget McMahon, petitioner, owner and agent; $100.

Lot 107, in square 677, improved by two frame houses on Jackson street northeast, Joanna Barnes, petitioner, owner; $22.

Lot 92, in square 677, improved by premises 102 Jackson street northeast, Patrick A. Ford, petitioner, owner; nothing.

The east half of subplot 104 and the west half of subplot 105, in square 677, improved by premises 40 and 40 1/2 Jackson street northeast, Mary M. Dore, petitioner, owner; nothing.

Lot 81, in square 677, improved by premises 32 and 35 Jackson street northeast, Harry T. Barton, petitioner, owner; $1,000.

The property owners were represented before the commission by Attorneys Guy H. Johnson, Charles L. Frazier, Louis Simmons and R. P. Shearer. Special Attorney for the District A. Letwith Sinclair appeared on behalf of the government.

The commission has announced that it will hold no more hearings until September.

AFTER MORE CONVENTIONS.

Chamber of Commerce Committee to Meet Tomorrow Night.

The convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce is bent on bringing still more conventions to Washington, and to discuss plans to accommodate this end a meeting has been called by the chairman, Granville Hunt, for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the chamber.

It is expected that efforts will be made to bring to this city the conventions of the local associations of steamfitters, master plumbers and carpenters in 1912. The Association of Post Office Bakers, which will hold its convention this summer at Saratoga, N. Y., will be asked to come here next year.

IN THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

MARRIAGE OF ANOTHER AMERICAN GIRL IN LONDON.

Gov. Hughes' House Hunting and Other Topics of Interest.

Personal Notes.

Ambassador Reid was present to see about his coming marriage to the Englishman yesterday in the event at St. George's, Hanover square, London, when Miss Hetty Davenport, daughter of the late J. A. Davenport of New York, became the wife of Frederick W. Menzies of the 2d Life Guards.

Gov. Hughes and his wife still busy with their selection of a Washington home, which, however, is likely to be decided before they return to New York today. It is reported that Mrs. Hughes wants to purchase a house in the city, and is only solicited about plenty of library room. It used to be said of New Yorkers as well as of other prominent newcomers here that the size of the dining room settled the house problem faster than any other feature, but evidently this day has passed.

There used to be pretty little stories written of the Hughes children as the family first took possession of the country estate in Albany, N. Y. Next door there was, and perhaps is yet, an orphan asylum. It was not long before the little forlorn and sad-looking children of the fence got acquainted, and it was not much longer before Mrs. Hughes had the orphan-boys in her big yard for a frolic and a romp.

It is easy to see why Mrs. Hughes wants a garden. She is used to it, as she and her family are accustomed to outdoor life, and the governor enjoys it all, can it with them.

A birthday party was given for Miss Annie Oliver, 318 M street northwest, Friday evening, July 27. After a program of music and recitation, games were played and refreshments served. The following were present: Messrs. W. H. Braund, Brailley, M. V. L. Scheueman, P. C. Bradley, George Roper, Berton Charlton, Misses Marian Wright, Margaret Kelley, Margaret McQueen, Mary Charles, Ellen Roper, Ruth Oliver, Katherine Kolmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parsons, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. H. Wright and Mrs. Rosenberg.

Mrs. Walter W. Burdette and her daughter, Miss Burdette, who have been detained in New York by the illness and death of a relative, will leave today for Massachusetts, to be gone the rest of the summer.

Mr. Joseph Francis Moore was host last night to about 100 young people in honor of his eighteenth birthday anniversary. The grounds of the Moore residence at Friendship Heights, Md., were brilliantly illuminated with Japanese lanterns inclosing electric bulbs. Refreshments were served from a decorated booth erected on the lawn. Music and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. J. Dixon Hospital and daughter are spending the summer at Bluemont, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gibbs, accompanied by Mrs. William Ecard, left the city today for an automobile tour to Tarrytown, N. Y., and from there to New York city, where they will spend a week.

Mrs. Thomas J. Sullivan, Miss Mary E. Sullivan, Mrs. Sarah S. Stone and Miss Katherine Stone, all of this city, were in Paris July 17.

former years the repainting and remarking of the buoys in the upper waters of the Potomac has been done early in the spring, but this year, in consequence of the fact that the Maple was under repair, the light-house service had no tender available for the work, it had to be put off until this time.

The Maple sailed today for Portsmouth to take up work on other parts of the district. The new gas buoy ordered and placed at White Stone point, about twenty miles below this city, has been placed in position by the Maple, and its light was lighted for the first time Tuesday night. The new buoy, which is No. 56, will be a great aid to Potomac navigators, as it marks one of the turning points in the river for the steamers and deep-draft vessels.

The light-house service steamer Jessamine, which looks after the repair work to light-houses and light stations in the fifth district, is in the lower Potomac distilling the lights and putting them overboard for the coming of the fall gales. The Jessamine is expected to visit this city this week.
